May 2022

I sincerely thank everyone for being so kind to reach out with your prayers, cards, and messages of encouragement after being bereaved of my dad. God is faithful, and we are grateful for our support team.

Bible Light Baptist Church of Kribi may not be growing in attendance exponentially every week, but it is evident that these young believers are growing in grace and knowledge of Jesus Christ. Besides the weekly services on Sunday and Wednesday, Becca meets with about eight teen girls every week for activities and discipleship. Last month, the girls had a blast doing their nails together at our house. In addition, I am taking four young men to see the Lobé Falls next Saturday, and I trust it will be a good opportunity for discipleship.

Thank you all for your continued prayers for my language tutor, Derrick. He visited our church on Resurrection Sunday for the first time. I preached a clear gospel message entitled, "I am the Resurrection," but there was no response to the Gospel. So please keep praying for his salvation.

Last month, I had the opportunity to teach another block course at the Timothy Bible Institute in Yaoundé. These men devoured the material in each lecture, and I am thrilled when I imagine these eight men scattered all over Cameroon preaching the Gospel and making disciples a few years from now.

Our biggest family event to report was another bout with malaria. Both Becca and Kate tested positive last week. Kate recovered with routine treatment after just a few days. But on the first day of her treatment, Becca passed out, and we believe she had a concussion from the fall. After three days of migraines, fever, and vomiting, I had to take Becca to the hospital for an intravenous infusion and overnight intense malaria treatment. She is home and finally doing better, but hospital admittance in Africa is always a scary adventure. Please pray for Becca's full recovery.

The kids are rounding up their classes for the school year. Drew and Kate have finished all their dual enrollment college coursework. We are so proud of them and believe they are well prepared to continue their education at college in the United States in August.

As we announced in our last update, our family will be taking a four-month furlough from July through October to help Drew and Kate get situated in Bible college, care for some dental and medical needs, and update some supporting churches. We still have some Sundays and midweek dates available if your church wants to arrange a meeting. We are looking forward to seeing as many of you as reasonably possible later this year. Thank you again for your faithful partnership in what God is doing here in Cameroon.

-Ben, Becca, Drew, Kate, Emma, and Faith Sinclair
